

Guardianship Community Forums 2009

About the Forums:

The Queensland Law Reform Commission is an independent statutory body whose role is to make recommendations on areas of law in need of reform.

The Commission is currently reviewing the guardianship legislation in Queensland which regulates the making of decisions by, and on behalf of, adults with impaired capacity. This part of this review looks at a number of issues under the Queensland guardianship legislation including:

- the appointment of guardians and administrators;
- enduring powers of attorney;
- decisions about health care;
- the role of the Guardianship and Administration Tribunal, the Adult Guardian, the Public Advocate and community visitors; and
- appeals from Tribunal decisions.

The Commission will be holding public forums throughout locations around Queensland to find out what people think about these issues. The Commission would like to hear your views.

Please let us know if you are interested in attending any of these public forums.

Details of forum locations, dates, times and venues are on the following page.
